"Stories of Love, Loss and Resilience"

Guest Appearances By Colin Linden, Samantha Martin & Delta Sugar

"Say It", the new release by singer, songwriter, and guitarist Judy Brown could be classified as a re-entry recording. It represents a journey in roots music and blues that began in Edmonton followed by 30 years in Toronto. Music moved to the back burner in the 90's when raising her two children became the priority and main focus. Performing abated but the song-writing continued.

In 2017 Judy Brown made two life changing decisions. First, a move to Nelson B.C. to be close to family and surrounded by that city's rich and supportive arts community. Second, a return to recording with long time musical friends, collaborators and producers Gary Kendall and Teddy Leonard. "Say It" marks the next exciting chapter of Judy Brown's career.
